Increase revenues by adding valuable video monitoring services to your customers' intrusion alarm systems

Increase your revenue

Add cameras and Video Verification services to your customers' intrusion installations. Add up front revenue to each new sale or system upgrade by integrating cameras into the alarm system.

Increase recurring monthly revenue (RMR) with video monitoring services that provides your customers a greater certainty of timely and effective law enforcement response.

How it Works

- ▶ Add camera to Bosch intrusion panel via virtual connection
- ▶ Enroll camera to monitoring service
- ▶ Monitoring Center verifies all events using ten second video clip and live stream

Meets industry standards

Bosch Video Verification service meets the CS-V-01 Alarm Verification & Notifications Procedure Standards as directed by the Security Industry Association (SIA) and the Central Station Alarm Association (CSAA).

Compatibility

The Video Verification service requires a compatible B Series (B4512, B5512, B6512) or G Series (B8512G, B9512G) intrusion panel, Bosch IP video cameras and encoders, and a Central Station partner that is powered by Cloud-based Monitoring Services.

Customer Benefits

Priority police response

Provide your customers with peace of mind. In most jurisdictions, response times for verified alarms are estimated to be up to 15 minutes faster. Additionally, the camera views into the site enable responders to take more targeted action, increasing apprehension rates by as much as 50%.

Best capture/best vision

Connect Bosch intrusion panels with Bosch IP cameras and Video Monitoring services to provide your customers with the best-of-breed solution – no need to compromise on image quality or capture performance. Select from a broad range of available camera features best suited for a particular installation, including fixed or moving cameras, infrared, video analytics, and audio. Your library of detection technologies is nearly limitless as well!

Live camera feeds

Delight your customers by providing them with live camera views on their smartphone and tablet simply by using the Site Monitor application, available for free from the Apple or Google Play app store.
